July 18, 2011

Surprises 'round evry outhouse

Let's kick off the fun!

Today is the first full "real" day of the rally! Can you believe it?! We hope you have made your seminar, entertainment and activity strategy for the week by now! Keep that program handy and enjoy as much as you can! Here are some of today's highlights you may want to note:

- 10a-2p: Hillbilly Rummage Sale starts in Section A today! Watch for the balloons and go see what kind of new junk...err... treasures you can find!
- 1p: Check out the "Living on the Road" session in Seminar E. Instructors have real-life experience and will share tips of living on the road long-term.
- 3p: Caravan Reunion in Seminar F. If you've participated in a WIT Tour than you'll want to catch up with your old friends during this reunion!
- 7:30p: Web Site and Newsletter Contest Winners will be announced just before tonight's entertainment! Who will win?!

Today's Forecast: It's HOT out here!

We can't control the weather (we so wish we could!), but we can encourage all of you to be careful! Drink plenty of fluids and enjoy time in the shade this week...like at the seminars and entertainment! There are water coolers placed throughout the grounds...USE them, stay cool and enjoy your time at GNR!

Decorating Contest - judging on TUESDAY

Many are asking so here's your answer: judges will be coming around to see your state row decorations starting at Noon until 2p on Tuesday. We'll announce the winners on Wednesday night during evening announcements.

TONIGHT IN THE AMPHITHEATER:

Shotgun Red and his buddy Steve Hall are taking a break from their hit show, "The Shotgun Red Show," shown on RFD-TV to visit us at GNR! They're bringing along a seven-piece country comedy show that's sure to have us all laughing and humming along to some favorites!
